

de kerselaar

housing development
for mentally disabled people project: in the middle of a parc two similar housing units are located. each house has 18 studios centralised around a core of general services. the facade is covered with a patchwork of green metal cladding reinforcing the integration of the volumes in the green environment. the complete structure is build with modular pre-fabricated units, ensuring a factory controlled finish, respecting the latest energy saving regulations.

project de kerselaar
function housing
city overijse
country belgium
year 2008

eer architectural design
info@eeredesign.com